NEW TARGET SCHEME.

PROPOSAL TO ADOPT THE VERY LATEST FOR USE HERE.
The Pit or Trench System - Practicable and Cheap - Many Good Points.

Next week Capt. R. O. White will start a scheme for putting in disappearing targets. This will do away with all of the present bulkheads. A trench deep enough for the markers and targets to stand upright in will be dug across the ground now occupied by bulkheads. From this pit the targets will be run up on a frame. The principle will be that of a pulley or same as a modern window frame plan, targets being on both ends of the line. When one is up, the other will be down, and vice versa. When a shot is fired, the target is drawn down and another comes up. The marker has the punctured target before him in the pit, and marks the shot on the one in view above.

There will be several advantages to this plan. The first is that shooting can be done much faster; second, more targets can be put in, nearly twice as many as at present; third, there will be no shadows across the targets, as is the case with the present system. Fourth, the target is perfectly safe. The pit will be lined with wood to keep the sand from falling in. It will also be protected with a roof.

AT HOME.
Beretania Tennis Club Holds a Reception.
The "at home" of the Beretania Tennis Club Saturday afternoon was one of the most pleasant events of the season. It was the occasion of the opening of the Club's new house. Mrs. F. M. Swanzy was in charge of the program. Nearly 200 people attended during the afternoon.

The decorations were very pretty. Flags of all nations were placed over the back nets and over a canopy in front of the club house. Refreshments were served during the reception. Tennis began early and was kept up until after dark. Among those present were President Dole, British Commissioner A. G. S. Hawes, Theo. H. Davies, Capt. Pigman and officers of the Bennington.

ACT TO LICENSE OPIUM.

Highest of all in Leaving Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report
ROYAL Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PURE

that it referred to a joint committee. Referred to the Joint Judiciary Committee.

Under the head of bills Senator Brown introduced his bill for the licensing of opium and the sale thereof. Same was read.

Senator Baldwin moved to have bill printed.

Senator Waterhouse said he could not allow the bill to go even that far without a protest. He would move that it be rejected. Seconded by Senator Rice.

Senator Baldwin said, though he was opposed to licensing opium he thought the bill should be considered.

His motion was seconded by Senator Schmidt.

Senator Waterhouse moved that the Ayes and Nays be called, and a record made of the votes. Senator Wright objected. He favored a part of the bill, and a part he did not.

Senator Brown said he brought in the bill at the urgent request of his constituents. Prior to 1890, he was opposed to licensing opium. Conditions have slowly changed, and in the Legislature of 1892 he voted in favor of a license. He now thought that the only way to handle the problem was by licensing. If a referendum were held it would be seen that a vote of the supporters of the Republic would favor the bill.

Mr. Baldwin repeated that though he was opposed to the licensing of opium, he would insist on the bill being printed. Some of the members had not yet settled the matter in their minds and wanted to digest it. "I am not afraid of bills, good or bad," said Mr. Baldwin.

The Attorney-General told Mr. Waterhouse would withdraw his motion. Deliberation on all matters was necessary to the welfare of the country. The community was divided as to the matter, and the bill should be carefully considered.

Mr. Waterhouse refused to withdraw his motion. The Senate should be settled already in the matter.

Senators Hocking and Schmidt insisted upon the bill being printed. Senator McCandless said it was certainly fair to have the bill printed and discussed on its merits.

Senator Waterhouse certainly had not sounded his constituents when he asserted that the community was not in favor of an opium license.

Senator Waterhouse: "I am here to do the right, no matter what my constituents think."

Senator McCandless: "Then you place yourself up as a sort of dictator."

Senator Waterhouse's motion that ayes and nays be called was lost. Waterhouse and Brown voting aye.

A motion that the bill be rejected was also lost by the following votes:

Aye: Senators Waterhouse of Oahu and Rice of Kauai. Nay: Senators McCandless, Brown, Schmidt, and Wright of Oahu; Hocking, Horner and Baldwin of Maui; Northrup and Lyman of Hawaii; Wilcox of Kauai.

Senator McCandless reported that the Committee on Seals would present a design later.

The Attorney-General presented a special report of the Board of Health upon the cholera epidemic of last August and September.

Under order of the day, Senator Rice moved for the second reading of the Attorney-General's bill relating to the payment of the same passed and was referred to the printing committee.

Minister King's "Homestead Leases Bill" was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Senate Bill No. 2, an Act to further provide for the payment of current accounts. Referred to Finance Committee.

Bill No. 1, Appropriation, was brought up. Mr. Baldwin moved that Tuesday and Thursday be set as days when the Senate shall sit in committee on the bill on the Appropriation Bill. Carried.

At 11:30 the Senate adjourned to 10 a. m. Tuesday.

House.

House met at 10 o'clock.

Minister Cooper presented engrossed copy of the President's speech on the opening day.

Representative Pali presented a petition from Lahaina having sixty-eight signatures praying that the Jury term now held at Lahaina be continued there, and that no change be made. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Representative Richards announced that bill No. 1 relative to authorizing the Minister of Interior to make special leases, printed and ready for distribution. Also that copies of the appropriation bill had been received from the Senate.

Representative Robertson from the Joint committee to whom was referred the matter of selecting designs for Great Seal and Department Seals submitted the following report:

Hon. D. L. Naone, speaker, House of Representatives:—Sir: With the permission of the Executive we gave public notice in the newspapers that there would be an open competition, and that a prize of $50 would be paid to the competitor whose design for a Great Seal would be adopted by the Legislature. In pursuance of said notice twenty-seven different designs were submitted to us, and we have carefully examined them and considered their respective merits. We have concluded to recommend for adoption the design submitted under the nom de plume "Anglo-Dane," that being in our opinion the most meritorious and constituting a handsome and appropriate design for a Great Seal.

The explanation of the design, as furnished by the designer, is substantially as follows:

The Great Shield is the Keystone of the whole design. The eight bars represent the eight inhabited islands of the group under one name. The tabu sticks are the emblem of authority and protection. The star in the center is the star of Hawaii which we hope to see ultimately placed in the banner of the United States. The supporters of the shield are Kamehameha I and the Goddess of Liberty, representing respectively the old and the new era, and the fusion of the two races. The radiated sun is a symbol of the new era which has dawned upon Hawaii with the advent of the Republic, while the fabulous bird Phoenix represents Hawaii rising rejuvenated from the ashes of the monarchy. Finally, the Kalo and banana leaves and coconuts are suggestive of the fruitfulness of the soil and the tropical verdure of the country.

As to the Department Seals, we are of the opinion that they should be of uniform design, and we think that the design now used by the Interior Department is suitable and well adapted for the purpose. We therefore recommend that that design be adopted by the departments of Foreign Affairs, Finance and the Attorney-General as well as the Interior Department, but inserting in each respectively the proper departmental name.

We transmit herewith the designs for the Great Seal which were received by us and also the design for the department seals which we have recommended.

A. M. McCANDLESS,
J. H. W. SCHMIDT,
A. G. M. ROBERTSON.

The report of the committee was, on motion of Rep. Kamao, ordered translated and printed.

Rep. Kamao read for the first time an act to create an additional point of entry for the arrival and departure of foreign vessels at Kailua, in the collection district of Kealahou, Hawaii. Ordered printed.

An act to authorize the Minister of Interior to make a certain class of leases. Amending Chapter 17, Laws of 1895, was read for first time and referred to committee on Public Lands.

House adjourned to Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Ice House Goods.

Ex Australia Palace Grocery received on ice, Fresh Frozen Oysters, Salmon, Roll Butter, Celery, Cauliflower, Fruit, Navel Oranges, Apples, etc. Telephone 755. Order early.

SALE OF CROWN GOODS.

A Big Crowd at Morgan's and Fancy Prices.

Crown table ware, etc., was sold today at Morgan's auction rooms, and brought big prices. W. G. Irwin, John Ema, Miss Kate Field, Theo. F. Lansing, H. F. Wichman, Theo. H. Davies, S. M. Duggan, J. S. Mayo, W. Wolters, Geo. Redick, Chief Justice Iud, S. M. Ballou, E. C. Macfarlane and brothers, James Sherwood, John S. Walker, Mannie Phillips, Geo. McLeod, T. K. James of the Australia, and C. V. Sturdevant were the principal bidders. Bidding was prompt and competition was very sharp.

Wm. G. Irwin paid $235 for a dinner set. A fruit stand brought $36; soup tureens sold for $10, $12 and $15; common plates brought from $5 to $8 a piece; cups without saucers sold singly for $3 and $4; saucers went equally high; broken ware brought almost the weight in gold. There was a scramble for everything, especially marked articles.

When the three Kalakaua helmets were put up bidding became very sharp. The German helmet started at $2. After a few advances all buyers dropped out except Miss Field, who bought for $10. The other two helmets were first raised by halves, then dollars and finally five. Mr. Wolters secured the prize for $30. Miss Field bought the second one for $17, and Mr. Redick the Austrian helmet for $16. Saddle blankets, pillows, etc., brought all the way from $10 to $20 each.

The sale will be resumed at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

A Farewell.

Mrs. Adjutant Egner gave a very impressive farewell talk before the Salvation Army and their friends at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening. The hall was crowded. At 7:30 this evening the Army will say farewell to Mrs. Egner at the Adjutant's home, Adams lane.

IN DEFERENCE.

Watuks Chinese Arranged a Salute.

The Chinese affair at Waialua is not yet settled. Deputy Marshal Hitchcock and Deputy Attorney-General Dole returned from the scene of the trouble Sunday morning. The Chinese were left in possession of the pistols and badges taken from the policemen Thursday night. They refused to give up the property. When questioned as to their grievances they said their "bosses" had instructed them not to talk. The Chinese have employed Hartwell, Thurston and Stanley and it is understood, will prosecute the policemen. One man in authority is disposed to arrest the Chinese.

REV. ROMIG.

The Evangelist Impresses Large Congregations.

Rev. Romig is awakening a profound interest in the community by his earnest proclamation of the Gospel. His sermons are remarkable for their spirituality and instructiveness. His yesterday morning's discourse was upon "Christian Forgiveness." In the evening he lectured on "How to Study the Bible." The church was crowded and additional chairs had to be brought into use. The speaker gave a lucid outline of the books of the Bible and the special purpose of each, directing special attention to the book of the Acts of Apostles as the only in which conversions to Christ are recorded and the question where the answer to the question "What must I do to be Saved" is found. Several baptisms took place at the close of the service.
